

OUR DOCTORS

Dr Ian Leggett
MBBS, FACRRM, Dip (Adv) RANZCOG
General Practitioner & Surgical

Since 1983 Ian has worked in rural areas in W.A. where his procedural skills, particularly in obstetrics and gynaecology have been required. Initially with the Health Department of W.A. in various locum positions, including the Kimberley (Broome, Derby, Wyndham and Carnarvon) and subsequently in private general practice in Bunbury for 4 years, the last 21 years has been in Albany as a partner in the Southern Regional Medical Group and VMO attachment to Albany Regional Hospital.

Ian now conducts procedures for private patients at the Albany Day Hospital.

Ian has always been involved in undergraduate and postgraduate teaching of PGPPP doctors and GP registrars. He has been a Rural Clinical School, UWA tutor since 2009 in obstetric gynaecology. In 2003 Ian received recognition from the University of W.A. with an "Excellence in Clinical Teaching Award" for the category, non-UWA, non academic.

Beyond work Ian's interests include gardening, woodwork and sailing.
