

OUR DOCTORSMr Ed YeboahGeneral Surgeon*

Born into a medical family — his father is a neurologist and his mother is a nurse — there was only ever one calling for Dr Edward Yeboah.

Born in Ghana, West Africa, he followed in his father's footsteps and attended medical school, ultimately winning the Best Student in Surgery prize. After his internship, he moved to the UK where he worked as a Senior House Officer, entered the Basic Surgical Training scheme in West Midlands and became a Member of the Royal College of Surgeons in Ireland.

Edward migrated to Australia in 2007 and worked in Darwin for four years as a registrar, gaining vast experience in several aspects of surgery. In 2012, he joined the training rotation in General Surgery, Western Australia, completing training in 2016.

Edward has also obtained a Master's degree in surgery from the University of Edinburgh, and is a Lieutenant in the Royal Australian Navy Reserves.

Mr Ed Yeboah's specialities are:

- Laparoscopic Hiatus hernia repair and anti-reflux surgery
- Laparoscopic Incisional hernia repair
- Hand surgery, including trauma, Dupuytren's disease, tendon injuries
- Breast cancer surgery
